Anti-bullying Policy¹

In accordance with the aims of King's High School and its behavioural policy, the basis of pastoral care at King's High is that every pupil's health and welfare is of paramount importance. We are committed to creating a school community where every individual is valued and can learn and develop in a secure and caring atmosphere. Our aims and pledges (written in partnership with our Student School Council) state that we will 'be inclusive and supportive of all people in the school community'. We work hard to create an ethos that discourages any form of bullying (or similar actions) which undermine this aim and will not be tolerated. If bullying does occur, all pupils should be able to tell, and know that incidents will be dealt with promptly and effectively. Anyone who knows that bullying is happening is expected to be an upstander and report it. The school also recognises that it must take note of bullying perpetrated outside of school which spills over into the school. The school will do what is reasonably practicable to help eliminate any such bullying.

Aims of the Policy

The school aims:

- To promote positive attitudes in pupils in respect of their relationships with others and create an ethos which discourages bullying
- To take action to reduce the risk of bullying at times and in places where it is most likely to occur
- To take measures to prevent all forms of bullying in school and on off-site school activities
- To support everyone in the actions to identify and protect those who might be bullied
- To take bullying seriously and show it will not be tolerated
- To demonstrate to all that the safety and happiness of pupils is enhanced by dealing positively with bullying
- To promote an environment where it is not an offence to tell someone about bullying

Objectives of this Policy

- All governors, teaching and non-teaching staff, pupils and parents should have an understanding of what bullying is.
- All governors and teaching and non-teaching staff should know what the school policy is on bullying, and follow it (when bullying is reported).
- All pupils and parents should know what the school policy is on bullying, and what they should do if bullying arises.
- As a school we take bullying seriously. Pupils and parents should be assured that they will be supported when bullying is reported.
- Bullying will not be tolerated.

¹ This policy is based on DfE guidance "Preventing and Tackling Bullying" July 2017 and supporting documents. It also takes into account the DfE statutory guidance "Keeping Children Safe in Education" 2019;

There are a number of pieces of legislation which set out measures and actions for schools in response to bullying, as well as criminal and civil law. These may include (but are not limited to): 2 The Education and Inspection Act 2006, 2011 The Equality Act 2010 The Children Act 1989 The Education (Independent School Standards) Regulations 2014 Protection from Harassment Act 1997 The Malicious Communications Act 1988 Public Order Act 1986.

Defining bullying

Bullying is defined as the repetitive, intentional harming of one person or group by another person or group, where the relationship involves an imbalance of power. Bullying is, therefore:

- · Deliberately hurtful
- · Repeated, often over a period of time
- · Difficult to defend against

Bullying can include:

Type of bullying	Definition
Emotional	Being unfriendly, excluding, tormenting
Physical	Hitting, kicking, pushing, taking another's belongings, any use of violence or aggressive behaviour.
Racial	Racial taunts, graffiti, gestures
Sexual	Explicit sexual remarks, display of sexual material, sexual gestures, unwanted physical attention, comments about sexual reputation or performance, or inappropriate touching
Direct or indirect verbal	Name-calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours, teasing, subtle comments and derogatory language
Cyber-bullying	Bullying that takes place online, such as through social networking sites, messaging apps, gaming sites or associated technology e.g. camera and video facitilies
Peer Pressure	Pressure to conform. This can take many forms and can include (but is not limited to) bullying (including cyberbullying), sexual violence and sexual harassment, physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm; sexting and initiating/hazing type violence and rituals and upskirting. (Keeping Children Safe in Education September 2019).

All of these examples of bullying show that the intention is to make the victim very unhappy and bullying may cause great distress. Bullying is thus different in nature and severity from minor teasing and the ordinary give-and-take of school life.

Anyone can be bullied but some bullying can be related to perceived differences which may relate to areas such as:

- Race, religion or culture
- Special educational needs or disability young people with SEND are more at risk of bulling than their peers and the school needs to eliminate any SEND-related harassment
- Appearance or health conditions where there is a health or visible medical condition such as eczema, or perceived physical limitations such as size or weight.
- Sex, gender identity and expression and sexual orientation— including those who are transgender, experiencing gender dysphoria or do not conform with their stereotypical gender role.
- Being a young carer or looked after child home circumstances may mean they are vulnerable
 if they face difficulties such as risks of ill health, stress, tiredness as well as falling behind because of home demands on their work.

Examples of motivation for bullying:

Cultural	Focusing on different customs and practices.
Special Educational	Verbal intimidation, name calling, specific
Needs / Disability	physical comments/actions.
Emotional	Being unfriendly, excluding, social ostracism, tormenting (e.g. hiding books, damaging belongings, threatening gestures),
Homophobic	Because of, or focusing on, the issue of sexuality.
Racial	Racial taunts, graffiti, gestures.
Religious	Abusing aspects of a religion, its founding
_	member, observances, practices.
Sex or gender related	Taunts of a sexist or gender nature (including transgender etc).
Home circumstance	Eg Family circumstances such as adoption, or a child acting as a carer, matters connected to parents, or comparative wealth

Why is it Important to Respond to Bullying?

The school works hard to create an ethos which discourages bullying from happening. Bullying hurts. No one deserves to be a victim of bullying. Everybody has the right to be treated with respect. Pupils who are bullying need to learn different ways of behaving.

Schools have a responsibility to respond promptly and effectively to issues of bullying and to try and identify where there are patterns of bullying to aid the response.

Schools have a responsibility to report bullying to:

- The local authority children's social care team (and if appropriate the police) if the incident constitutes a child protection concern – this would be where there is "reasonable cause to suspect that a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm"
- Police if the incident could be a criminal offence or pose a serious threat to a member of the public (this applies whether it occurred on or off the school premises)

Signs and Symptoms

A child may indicate by signs or behaviour that he or she is being bullied. Adults should be aware of these possible signs and that they should investigate if a child:

- is frightened of walking to or from school
- doesn't want to go on the school / public bus
- begs to be driven to school, refuses to get out of the car
- · changes their usual routine
- is unwilling to go to school (school phobic)
- begins to truant
- · becomes withdrawn anxious, or lacking in confidence
- starts stammering
- attempts or threatens suicide or runs away
- cries themselves to sleep at night or has nightmares
- feels ill in the morning
- begins to do poorly in school work
- comes home with clothes torn or books damaged
- has possessions which are damaged or "go missing"
- asks for money or starts stealing money (to pay bully)
- has dinner or other monies continually "lost"
- has unexplained cuts or bruises
- comes home starving (money / lunch has been stolen)

- becomes aggressive, disruptive or unreasonable
- is bullying other children or siblings
- stops eating
- is frightened to say what's wrong
- gives improbable excuses for any of the above
- is afraid to use the internet or mobile phone
- is nervous & jumpy when a cyber message is received

These signs and behaviours could indicate many other problems, but bullying should be considered a possibility.

Outcomes

The following steps can be taken:

- The pupil(s) who used bullying behavior may be asked to genuinely apologise
- Sanctions may be imposed such as detention and exclusion from certain areas of school
- An official warning may be given to cease offending
- Suspension or even exclusion will be considered
- If possible, the pupils will be reconciled
- After the incident / incidents have been investigated and dealt with, each case will be monitored to ensure repeated bullying does not take place.

Anti-bullying education in school

The School employs a number of strategies to educate pupils about bullying:

- The School's policy is discussed with Year 7 in the first few weeks of term by their Head of Key Stage and reminders are given as pupils move up the school.
- PSHEE sessions highlight the issues in the context of good behaviour and suggest appropriate ways of dealing with negative and unkind behaviour
- Each form teacher in school makes girls aware of and talks through the "Need Help or Advice" notice found in each form room. A bullying wallet card is given out every September with information on how to deal with bullying and useful contact numbers.
- Form tutorial time is given over to discussing bullying issues as well as it being part of the PSHEE curriculum
- Assemblies are used to ensure that the school policy is reinforced at regular intervals
- Wellbeing Ambassadors, a peer support group of students from all year grpoups, are trained by the Diana Award and receive general antibullying training, cyber bullying training and anti-HBT (homophobic, biphobic and transphobic) training.
- Anti-bullying issues are raised in subject areas through the curriculum including Drama, History, English etc. as well as in CS where a specific internet usage and cyber bullying course is completed
- Awareness may be raised in School Council
- Supervision of all areas at break and lunch time by staff is a priority and there are quiet supervised areas (library) where girls can go.
- External agencies sometimes provide talks through the PSHEE curriculum
- A positive school ethos is created by celebrating success in school e.g. in assemblies, noticeboards etc.

Involvement of Parents

Parents should know that the school will not tolerate bullying and takes a positive approach to educating pupils to combat it.

Parents of pupils who are being bullied and parents of the bullies will be involved in the solution to the problem as appropriate by the Head of Key Stage in consultation with the Deputy Head (Pastoral)

Parents will be informed of the policy and procedures and the possibility of permanent exclusion (i.e. expulsion) following gross acts of bullying.

Involvement of Pupils

Pupils will have an input into the PSHEE anti-bullying programme and through other strategies e.g. form time and will be consulted on how it could be developed. Part of this programme will focus on how to cope with bullying, how to report bullying both in and out of school and the consequences of bullying. Pupils will be assured that they will be listened to and that incidents are acted upon.

Monitoring, evaluation and review

The school will review this policy annually and assess its implementation and effectiveness. Pupils are made aware of expectations of behaviour and the sanctions that may be implemented. A bullying file is kept with records of incidences where disciplinary action has been implemented.

The school will update its approach and take into account developments such as in technology updating the "parent/pupil acceptable use" policy for using computers and other mobile devices in and out of school.

The policy will be promoted and implemented throughout the school. Staff will receive training outlining their responsibilities regarding bulling, how to resolve problems and where to seek support. Where appropriate the school will invest in specialised skills to train staff e.g. Special Educational Needs and/or disability (SEND) and will draw upon the experience and expertise of anti-bullying organisations.

Monitoring, evaluation and review A senior member of this school staff will be identified to lead on the implementation of the policy and act as the link person with the LA and outside agencies. An annual report will be made to the governing body, including statistics about: • The number of reported concerns • Monitoring information about the pupils involved • Motivations for bullying • Actions taken and outcomes The school will review the policy annually and assess its implementation and effectiveness.
