

Winner of the ISA Senior School of the Year Award 2021

Prestigious national double win for King's High

King's High School, Warwick is celebrating a prestigious national double win, after being announced Senior School of the Year and winner of the Excellence and Innovation in Performing Arts Award, at the Independent Schools Association's UK awards. King's High was also Highly Commended for Sport and Fine Arts.

Head Master, Dr Stephen Burley, said: 'These are significant national accolades that our whole school community can take great pride in. Over the last year - along with so many others - everyone has worked incredibly hard, pulled through challenging times, and shown such a positive and inspiring spirit.'

'I am incredibly proud of the team effort that has gone into these achievements, and the superb work of our students, staff and governors which has been recognised. It is exciting for us all to see the success of the school celebrated nationally, and how the tremendous work of the whole community is strengthening King's High's position at the very forefront of girls' education.

'The award for Excellence and Innovation in Performing Arts is a particularly apt accolade for our superb Drama and Music Departments. Recently, we have been treated to an outstanding Senior Production of Everyman at the Bridge House Theatre, which showcased the strength and depth of theatrical talent across King's High and Warwick School. The quality of music in school continues to flourish. Our weekly Inspire Music series has been a huge hit with pupils and their families and combines our own musical talent in school through encounters with world-class musicians.'
